MEMORANDUM TO USERS OF RAC PUBLICATIONS LIST

ENCLOSED herewith is the RAC Publications List dated 1 October 1965, which includes information on RAC publications through 30 June 1965.

This document was printed by means of the Automated Documentation System in which the text of any document is treated as data for a set of computer programs. The system was developed by Robert A. Magnuson, Advanced Research Department, under RAC Institutional Project number 22.4.1. The system is described in RAC-TP-165, "Automated Documentation" and RAC-P-3, "Computer-Assisted Writing."

Users of this list should note that there is a continuation from one page to another in some cases on a particular document. Further, in requesting documents care must be exercised to ensure use of the proper document category name and subcategory name, as on the contents page.

Rather than issue changes to this list, as in the past, plans are to re-issue a complete Publications List using the Automated Documentation System at least every six months. This would eliminate the issuance of changes, the posting of these changes, and conserve further time and effort for all concerned.

This document supersedes the RAC Publications List dated 30 June 1963, including changes through January 1965, except the separate sections pertaining to Semi-Annual Reports, Study Index, No distribution Publications, and Open Literature Clearance, which have been temporarily omitted.

Users of this list are requested to submit comments on the makeup of the list and its usefulness as pertains to their particular requirements. Modifications of the list will be based on constructive comments received from the users.

When this list is no longer required, it should be destroyed in the same manner as Confidential material, except that a record of destruction is not required. It should not be returned to RAC.

PUBLICATIONS

Reports

The Report is a formal and comprehensive publication prepared for distribution to the sponsor and, with sponsor approval, is disseminated to individuals and organizations.

These publications report a complete research on a major field of inquiry. Studies reported are usually of broad scope involving a major synthesis, often concerned with very large systems, incorporating pioneering research and presenting the considered opinion of the Research Analysis Corporation. All reports are given thorough pre-publication review and full Editorial treatment in order to ensure consistently high quality. The President's approval to publish is required.

Semiannual Reports

Semiannual Reports summarized the work completed during the January-June and July-December periods of each year. These reports have been discontinued; the last one issued covered the period ending 31 December 1962.

Technical Memoranda

The Technical Memorandum is a formal publication prepared for distribution to the sponsor and with the sponsor's approval it is disseminated to individuals and organizations.

These publications are papers that treat one or more major phases or aspects of a research study and provide results in definitive terms. The papers that report on a phase or aspect of a larger research study may represent suboptimizations of it. Equally important, it makes research results on a particular phase of a study available to the sponsor at a much earlier date than would be the case if all information were to be withheld until a final report on all phases could be prepared.

Technical Memoranda present the considered opinion and recommendations of the Research Analysis Corporation. They are given pre-publication reviews in order to ensure consistently high quality, and recommendations are made to the sponsor.

Approval to publish is recommended by the Department Head and endorsed by the cognizant Vice President.

Staff Papers

The Staff Paper was a formal publication prepared for distribution to the sponsor and, with the sponsors approval, was disseminated to individuals and organizations.

These publications usually reported on detailed phases of a research study compared to Technical Memoranda but within this scope also provided results in definitive terms. They were utilized to give research reports (on Special or Crash studies) of segments of the research timely distribution and earlier use by the sponsor. Staff Papers also were utilized in lieu of appendixes which formerly appeared in TM's and Reports, in the interest of timeliness and at the same time reducing the bulk of later publications and permitting earlier evaluation. The Staff Paper differs from the Technical Memorandum primarily in its narrow scope.

The studies reported as Staff Papers presented the considered opinion of the corporation. Staff Papers received prepublication reviews as directed by the Department Heads in order to ensure consistently high quality. The Department Heads' approval to publish was required and quick Editorial treatment was given every paper.

The last Staff Paper issued was RAC-SP-194, published May 1963.

Technical Papers

The Technical Paper is prepared for distribution to the sponsor and, with sponsor approval, to individuals and organizations.

These papers cover problems of a wide range of interest to the sponsor but do not require action or evaluation by the sponsor.

Examples of papers falling in this category are papers on methodology not primarily connected to a specific study; reports on important conferences or symposia either conducted at RAC or attended by RAC personnel; material developed for the standardization program with particular reference to the ABC Conferences on Army Operational Research; compilations of reference material or historical summaries; think pieces; reports of briefings; the RAC Work Program; accomplishments of RAC, and computing techniques and procedures.

These papers either present the considered views of the authors, or are a compilation of materials from referenced sources; they do not contain recommendations.

Department Heads are responsible for determining the extent of the prepublication review and transmittal of final document to the sponsor. Approval to publish is recommended by the Department Head and endorsed by the cognizant Vice President.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Indexes

Author and Study Indexes are provided for convenience. The Study Index should be consulted to insure that all publications are requested in the appropriate area of interest. Do not make a publication request by Study Number only (see Request for Documents). Note: The Study Index has been temporarily omitted from this issue.

Open Literature Clearance

Publications cleared in the Open Literature have in most cases been forwarded to the Department of Commerce, Clearinghouse for Federal Scientific and Technical Information (CFSTI) (formerly OTS), as well as the Defense Documentation Center (DDC), and they are available from either source. Some publications or articles in connection with them have also been printed by various commercial agencies and in OPERATIONS RESEARCH, The Journal of the Operations Research Society of America. These may be requested from the commercial agencies and from the authors of the papers that have appeared in OPERATIONS RESEARCH. These documents are also indicated throughout the list in the various categories.

Publication Dates

The date of publication is shown when that date is available. The month and year in which the document was published appear on the cover and the title page of each document published since mid-1955. The date the document was received for publication, as well as the date of publication, appears near the bottom on the reverse side of the title page. Documents published in 1954 to mid-1955 carry the date received for publication on the cover and title page. The publication date appears alone on the reverse side of the title page.

On some early documents, publication dates and dates of receipt were not consistently provided; in some cases the date given represented the date of termination of the research on which the document was based, or the date on which writing of the original manuscript was completed.

Classification Review

All classified RAC publications are reviewed constantly for regrading under the automatic time phased regrading program. In some cases there are special reviews for regrading. Changes in classification are reflected in each revision of the Publications List. Holders of RAC/ORO documents should compare classification of documents with the list. Holders of documents may use this Publications List as authority to regrade if necessary. Questions concerning classification should be referred to the Document Control Office, RAC.

Title Classification

Most titles listed herein are unclassified. The classified titles are shown in abbreviated short form only and are identified as short titles. Titles classified above FOUO are not listed herein.

Classification of titles of all classified documents is indicated in parentheses immediately following the title:

(U) UNCLASSIFIED

Publications Not Available for Distribution

In some cases, documents have been prepared for a special purpose and are not available for distribution. These documents are indicated by the term "No Distribution."

Primary Distribution

Primary distribution of Research Analysis Corporation publications is governed by a RAC Distribution List. Military and government agencies are selected from this list on the basis of interests and responsibilities. Industrial and research organizations are selected on the basis of military contract activities. Each addressee on the list may receive, on a need-to-know basis, publications falling within a number of subject-matter categories. The Research Analysis Corporation Distribution List is a permissive, not a mandatory or "automatic," distribution list. Addresses on the list will not necessarily be sent all the publications in the categories for which they are approved because the initial distribution list for each publication is determined individually.

Secondary Distribution

Secondary requests should be directed to DDC or CFSTI as appropriate.

Requests for RAC documents not furnished to DDC or CFSTI are filled by RAC on a retention basis until the supply is exhausted, at which time loan copies are available to qualified individuals or agencies for limited periods.

Request for Documents

RAC publications have been prepared for the following sponsors:

Department of the Army (All publications NOT listing sponsor were prepared for Army)
Chief of Research and Development (CRD)

Deputy Chief of Staff for Military Operations (DCSOPS)
Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics (DCSLOG)
Comptroller of the Army (COA)
Assistant Chief of Staff for Force Development (ACSFOR)
Commanding General
Combat Developments Command (CDC)

Department of Defense (sponsor indicated)

Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA)
Office Director of Defense Research & Engineering
Assistant Secretary (Comptroller) (ASD-COMPT)
Assistant Secretary (International Security Affairs) (ASD-ISA)

Governmental (Non-Defense) (sponsor indicated)

Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, Department of State (ACDA)
Weather Bureau, Department of Commerce (WB-DC)

RAC does not furnish copies of publications without specific approval of the sponsor.*

Military and Government Agencies may address requests directly to Defense Documentation Center. Contractors and other agencies should submit letter and DDC Form 1 through their appropriate military contracting officer for certification of need-to-know and facility clearance, and finally to the sponsor of requested document. Requests may be sent directly to DDC providing there are no restrictions or limitations imposed on document release. Requests for documents that do not have a DDC or OTS number should be sent to RAC through the appropriate sponsor. The current DDC mailing address is:

Director
Defense Documentation Center
Cameron Station
Alexandria, Virginia 22314

Certain unclassified publications have been deposited with the Department of Commerce Clearinghouse for Federal Scientific and Technical Information (CFSTI) [formerly office of Technical Services (OTS)]. This clearinghouse is a government agency and it is primarily interested in reproducing unclassified and unlimited research and development government and nongovernment reports for sale at a nominal cost. Requests for these publications should state the title, author, and reference number (usually prefixed by either OTS or PB); in some instances the DDC number *Requests should be made by document number and unclassified title. In the event of a Field Office publication, the appropriate Field Office designation should be used, e.g., T-31(FEC) or T-27(USAREUR) and the appropriate Unclassified title. Do not request publications by Study number alone.

is used. The mailing address is:

Technical Information, CFSTI (formerly OTS)

Final Disposition of Documents

After RAC and ORO publications (including this Publications List) have served their purpose, and considered no longer needed by user, the documents may be destroyed in accordance with provisions of the applicable security regulations. Please do not return to the Research Analysis Corporation, except in cases where loan copies have been made available and return dates are specified.
